

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

How a team collaborates has a greater impact on its success than who is on the team. A big part of that collaboration depends on team members knowing each other's strengths and weaknesses and valuing each person's unique strengths.

In this workshop team members receive their top 5 Gallup Strengths report and gain deep insights into how they work. Teams develop deeper trust, uncover sources of potential conflict, and leave with a unifying vision of their collective strengths and areas for improvement.

TEAM BENEFITS

GREATER ENGAGEMENT

Individuals and teams can't be engaged or do their best work unless they really know and trust each other. That trust shows up as vulnerability and that starts with individuals being open about their strengths and weaknesses without fear of judgement.

MORE EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

Our talents are the filters through which we make sense of things. When we understand and value each other's filters, we depersonalize differences and develop deeper and clearer communication

HIGHER QUALITY OUTCOMES

When teams collaborate and communicate better and build greater trust the result comes through in both individual and team performance.
